To apply for a license for tokenization in Estonia, typically through the Financial Supervisory Authority (FSA) or Financial Intelligence Unit (FIU), you will need to prepare and submit various documents. Here is a list of commonly required documents:

- 2. Business Plan: Detailed business plan outlining the nature of the tokenization services, targ hmarket, business strategy, financial projections, and risk

Company registration documents

Certificate of Incorporation: A legal instrument issued by the appropriate governmental authority, pursuant to the relevant statutes (e.g., Companies Act 2006, Section 15 in the United Kingdom; or as prescribed by individual state corporation laws in the United States), serving as conclusive evidence of the corporate existence and conferring upon the entity its status as a body corporate.

Articles of Association (or Bylaws): A constitutive document, as mandated by law (e.g., Companies Act 2006, Section 18 in the United Kingdom; or as required by state-specific corporation laws in the United States), delineating the internal regulations, governance structure, and operational procedures of the corporate entity. Said document shall set forth, inter alia, the rights, duties, and obligations of shareholders and directors, as well as the mechanisms for corporate decision-making and administration.

Register of Shareholders and Directors: Official records maintained by the company in compliance with statutory obligations (e.g., Companies Act 2006, Sections 113 and 162 in the United Kingdom; or as stipulated by state corporation laws in the United States), containing: a) A comprehensive record of all past and present members of the company, including their names, addresses, dates of admission to membership, and shareholdings; and b) A detailed register of all individuals who hold or have held the office of director, including their full names, any former names, service address, country or state of usual residence, nationality, business occupation (if any), and date of birth.
